About the Institution

Bhaskaracharya College of Applied Sciences (University of Delhi) is a NAAC Accredited Grade 'A' college and has also received Star Status by Department of Biotechnology, Government of India. The foundation of the college was laid in October 1995 at Pusa, New Delhi. The college now at Dwarka on a 10 acre campus boasts of well equipped laboratories, ICT enabled classrooms and state of art sports facilities. The college offers eleven honours courses in both basic and applied areas of science. The objective of our institution is to provide holistic education to its students. The institution nurtures young talent and transforms them into researchers and thinkers seeking opportunities in academia or industry. We aim to support and promote development of the faculty at both academic and personal level.

The college organizes various conferences, symposia, lecture series, work shops etc. from time to time to upgrade our academic standards and know-how and also promote a sense of research ethics among the stake holders.

The mission of the College is to create and sustain the conditions that enable students to experience an unparalleled educational journey that is intellectually, socially, and personally transformative.

About the IQAC

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell of Bhaskaracharya College of Applied Sciences aims to raise the quality standards and to make sustainable environment conducive for nation building. The Committee feels growth and development of college is synonymous with academic and curricular activities. Thus, Faculty Development Programmes and Student Enrichment Programmes are conducted on regular basis in the college.
